The University of Arizona Graduate and Alumni Gallery is proud to present:

intangible
unable to be touched or grasped; not having physical presence.

As an independent study, four design students from Minnesota State University, Mankato created a concept-based poster series to explore unconventional means of design. We decided to challenge the notions of contemporary design practice, working collaboratively to solve the problem of visually depicting words without physical properties.

Each of the twenty-six posters were created with three simple guidelines:

Word Selection
each letter of the alphabet is represented by an intangible word

Analog vs. Digital both handmade and computer-created elements

Size
each poster created at the A2 size (420mm x 594mm)
